Synthetic turkey wishbones are now for sale

Tired of fighting over the turkey wishbone? So was Seattle businessman Ken Ahroni, who created Lucky Break Wishbone: synthetic turkey wishbones that are sold in family packs.

This is great for large gatherings or those who don't eat turkey. A five-pack costs about $5 and can be purchased through www.luckybreakwishbone.com, or call 866-582-5994 for more information.
